

YOUNG REPORTERS

Summary of the project

ORGANIZED

La Fàbrica, youth facility in Salt

BLACKGROUND

The project/workshop, reflects the experience developed during 2010 and 2011.

The workshop was about video recording from the work of small documentary about Salt. The aim of the workshop was the development of skills in video tools and the knowledge and thought of the young people with their environment. In 2011, due to the lack of funds, the group of youth was also the creators of the video editing with the support of the mentors of "La Fàbrica", without the possibility to have the experience of some expert on the field.

During 2012, and due to the good results of the first workshop and the interest and involvement of young people, is proposed a new workshop about recording and editing video responding to the improvement of technical skills and as to tool to involve the young people in their community, Salt
